

Earth Healing Day

Give Her one hour
of your time, intention, and love...

together we'll create

The OM Heard 'Round the World'

Sunday - August 15, 2010

12:00 noon - 1:00 pm

Earth Healing Day is a service project for the planet. On August 15th individuals and groups of people worldwide will pray, meditate and/or chant for one hour with the intention of creating a healing wave that will embrace our precious Earth. You are invited to join in and co-create this global experience of unity.

Join the Wave. It's easy. On Sunday, August 15th, from 12:00 noon - 1:00 pm (12:00-13:00 in your local time zone) focus yourself in prayer or meditation. If it's a match for you, chant OM. You can do this by yourself or with a group. Hold the intention that what you're doing is contributing to the energetic cleansing and healing of Earth.

The focused efforts of thousands of individuals and groups of people worldwide will merge to create a wave of healing for the planet, starting at the International Date Line and moving from one time zone to the next, circling the globe over 24 hours.

How often do you get to join a worldwide healing wave? This is a great opportunity to make a difference. Give back to Earth... Give Her one hour of your time, intention, and love. Together we can create results that matter.
